THE MATTRESS

Tiepolo Double Memory Thermo is the result of skillful and better mixing of different materials and it is obtained after careful laboratory tests.

An advanced technology research has permitted to create a special foam like the Thermo Viscoelastic Waterlily that is able to thermoregulate the areas in contact with the body so as to have an ideal micro climate. This typology is produced with the aid of microspheres named PCM (Phase Changing Material).

Thanks to its elasticity, high breathability and cells structure, the new Thermo Viscoelastic Waterlily lets :

- Model itself through the thermal action of the body;
- improve breathability favoring the removal of moisture produced by the body;
- absorb and distribute uniformly the body weight ;
- minimize the points of pressure and obtain a high level of comfort of use;

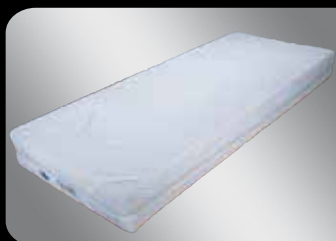

The viscoelastic Waterlily offers characteristics of residual deformation and resistance to tearing equivalent to the top materials present on the market. It presents also a viscoelastic effect and a remarkably higher breathability than the competition.

The mattress is made by an inalterable high good quality material in order to assure the breathability and a correct support.

The antiacarus covering with elastane has a quilting of particular visual impact. This article is a very high level support and it lets sleep on a high quality Memory foam in both sides. Each part of the body will have the feeling of being on a cloud.
